Ellen Olson

Ellen Olson departed from the LWVPT and Greensboro in early January, 2017. Ellen was a lifetime member of the League and for much of her fifty plus years she was a member of this local League. Ellen served as president of this League twice. She served on committees for Civics 102 and Civics 104 and was an active member of the Guilford County jail study. Ellen was a dedicated supporter of the observer program and worked to see it implemented several years ago. She received a master’s degree from UNCG after her two children were grown and was a leader in her professional life serving Youth Focus and Planned Parenthood. Ellen traveled frequently with her husband, David, and shared their experiences with us in Voter Impact.

The LWVPT sends our condolences to David, children, and grandchildren. We will miss Ellen sitting beside Dave at Lunch with the League.

JUDGE THOMAS W. ROSS

Judge Ross was born in Greensboro, and holds a bachelor's degree in political science from Davidson College (1972). After graduating with honors from the UNC School of Law (1975), Ross served as an attorney, a chief of staff to a U.S. Congressman, and as a state Superior Court judge for 17 years. He continued his public service as director of the North Carolina Administrative Office of the Courts. He was appointed Executive Director of the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation (2001-2007), President of Davidson College (2007-2010), and President of the seventeen-campus University of North Carolina (2011-2016).

Active in civic and community affairs, Judge Ross serves on the Howard Baker Forum Cuba Consortium Advisory Board and has recently served on the Board of Governors of the Center for Creative Leadership, the Executive Committee of the State Higher Education Executive Officers Association, the Board of Directors of the National System Heads Association, the Association of the Governing Boards' Council of Presidents, and the Council on Competitiveness.

Currently, Judge Ross is President of the Volcker Alliance, a New York City based nonpartisan organization formed in 2013 to address the challenge of effective execution of public policies and to rebuild public trust in government. He also serves as the first Terry Sanford Distinguished Fellow at Duke University's Sanford School of Public Policy.

JUDGE RHODA BRYAN BILLINGS

Judge Billings was born in Wilkesboro, NC. After earning her law degree from Wake Forest University (finishing first in her class), she practiced law with her husband, Donald R. Billings. In 1968, Billings was appointed as a Judge in the newly-created District Court in Forsyth County. In 1985, Governor Jim Martin appointed Billings an Associate Judge on the NC Supreme Court. She became Chief Justice the following year. In 1991, she became the first female President of the North Carolina Bar Association. Judge Billings has served on the faculty the Wake Forest University School of Law for more than three decades.

JUDGE HENRY E. FRYE

Judge Frye was born in Ellerbe, NC. He graduated from NC A&T State University with highest honors. He served as a Captain in the US Air Force and then attended the UNC School of Law, graduating with honors in 1959. After establishing his private law practice, Frye served as Assistant US Attorney in the NC Middle District. After teaching for two years at the NC Central Law School, he returned to private practice. In 1968, Frye was elected to represent the 26th House District in the NC House of Representatives. Four years later, he was elected to the 23rd House District, where he served until 1980, when he was elected to represent the 19th Senate District in the NC Senate. In 1983, Governor Jim Hunt appointed Frye as Associate Judge on the NC Supreme Court, a position to which he was subsequently elected, twice. In 1999, Governor Jim Martin appointed Frye as Chief Justice of the NC Supreme Court. Judge Frye is currently working at the Brooks Pierce law firm in Greensboro and teaching at NC A&T State University.
