

Immigrant Rights Working Group

The Immigrant Rights Working Group (IRWG) of Guilford County serves as a welcoming and affirming presence to immigrants and counters anti-immigrant sentiment by working together for just and humane immigration policy in Greensboro, in North Carolina, and in our nation and world as a whole.

We challenge anti-immigrant programs like Secure Communities, author Op-Eds and letters to the editor about immigrant issues, support certain specific cases, sponsor educational events about immigration, speak out on immigration policy, and more.

We are a planning, coordinating, and implementing committee made up of representatives of organizations, faith communities and committed individuals.
